Subject: RE: Clear Channel - Second source code review

Kirk,

Mary Cross and Brian Treggs will be available to supervise your review from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. Please ask for Mary when you arrive. Please also confirm your expected arrival time.

Blue Spike received source code print-outs in June and RCS has not created or produced new source code since then, thus, Blue Spike should at least supplement its contentions with the source code it has already received by August 12. Please confirm that Blue Spike will supplement its contentions with the previously produced information by then. Regarding this second review, assuming we receive Blue Spike's print-out requests tomorrow and the requests comply with the terms of the protective order, we should be able to provide print-outs by the end of the week. An additional week from Friday is August 15. Please confirm that Blue Spike will supplement its contentions fully to include source code citations by August 15. If we do not receive requests for print-outs by Tuesday, or if they do not comply with the protective order, then any delay is caused by Blue Spike, but Clear Channel cannot postpone filing a motion to strike Blue Spike's contentions any further.

Regards,
Sarah

Sarah,

I can confirm that I will be inspecting Clear Channel's source code tomorrow, August 5th.

The supplemental contentions will require more time to produce. I expect that we will receive source code printouts for this latest round of review no earlier than the end of the week, and more likely the next. The deadline you have proposed would not even provide an opportunity to incorporate the most recent code. Once we have received the newest source code printouts, we will work diligently to provide you the supplemental contentions.

Best,

Kirk Anderson / Attorney

Kirk,

Yes, we can accommodate inspection on August 5. Please confirm who will attend and what time they will arrive. Please ask for Mary Cross when you arrive.

Can you please confirm that Blue Spike will provide supplemental infringement contentions with pinpoint source code citations by August 12?

Thank you,
Sarah

Sarah,

Thank you for confirming that Cygwin is installed and that next week will work for a second review of Clear Channel's source code. As the review date nears and my review schedule solidifies, it currently looks like the beginning of the week is most convenient. Is it possible to conduct the review on Tuesday the 5th? Again, I appreciate your flexibility in scheduling these reviews as it takes a substantial amount of juggling on this end.

Sarah,

I appreciate the follow up and your flexibility in scheduling this review. We have had some last minute schedule changes, and tomorrow is no longer a convenient date to review Clear Channel's source code. If possible, we would like to conduct the review the week of August 4th. Can Clear Channel make its source code available on August 7th or 8th? That should also allow ample time to download Cygwin.

Thanks.

Subject: Clear Channel - Second source code review

Sarah,

If possible, I would like to continue review of Clear Channel's source code next week. Is Clear Channel in a position to make its source code available again for review either July 15th or 16th? I recognize that this is a quick turnaround, and I appreciate your flexibility. Hopefully the review machine is still readily accessible.

Additionally, I would ask that another program be installed on the review machine. If possible, please install Cygwin which is available for free at www.cygwin.com.
